

West Lawn resident Jesse Villa recently joined the local business community as a senior level business partner with Symmetry. 11849PJ

Symmetry is a direct selling company known for their resveratrol infused juice product to help people of all ages improve their health and wellness, Villa said.

“When I heard of the positive impacts this company was making towards communities all over the world, I had to get involved,” Villa said. “I am so excited to see how I can help the people in my local neighborhood understand the value of nutritional products and its overall positive influence.”

Since joining Symmetry, Villa is encouraging the local community to get on the right track towards physical, spiritual and personal well-being.

“Not only will I have the opportunity to show people how they can maintain healthier lives, but I will also be able to achieve my own personal and financial goals in a future with Symmetry,” Villa added.
