I started with Symmetry as a customer! As an athlete, I saw tremendous results using Genesis™ and Ultra Vitality™.

My enroller, bodybuilder Mark Smith II, contacted me at the perfect time—just months after a nasty motorcycle accident sidelined me from Mixed Martial Arts combat as well any side jobs I was working at the time.

Symmetry means freedom, whether financially or otherwise. In tough economic times, most sales people cannot control the amount of customers that walk onto their showroom floor. With our business plan, my showroom floor is the world!

Every month, I spend the first couple weeks ensuring I have over 8 orders and 1000 points of business in the system and make sure that I hit well-over the “Cash Contest” bonus. I make a mental note to constantly recruit sharp individuals who can help my organization grow and then I bring them to Rhino State University to ensure their long-term success with professional training. I never ask anyone in my organization to do anything that I’m not already doing myself. Finally, I make sure that I stay in close contact with my customers to ensure our long-term business relationships.

I believe all-stars don’t survive in the sales world. My dad, who’s a well-established car dealer, taught me the importance of consistency and this lesson has never left me. Get a minimum eight customers a month. Sound intimidating? Think of it this way: get at least two customers a week. Don’t procrastinate until the end of the month. Don’t let your highs get too high, or your lows too low. Set short term goals and achieve them repetitively in order to accomplish long-term objectives.

The pyramids of Egypt were built one brick at a time, and are to this day the strongest framework of engineering known to man. Don’t forget customer service or you will not have any residual customers. Most significantly, go to the Rhino State University Seeds of Success workshops for a crash course in nutrition, sales, marketing, advertising, and personal development in a manner that’s highly retainable. God Bless!
