I started with Symmetry when a friend of mine introduced me to the company, the health benefits involved, and the business opportunity related to the products. Since I consider myself a servant to the people, what better way can I please God than my helping his people seek better health. To me, Symmetry means personal freedom. I was once overwhelmed with health, financial, and personal issues, but Symmetry's business opportunity afforded me the chance to relieve myself of these burdens.

The key to success is to learn as much as humanly possible and take action. This is a benefit I've really enjoyed about the Symmetry organization. Each product is well-researched and the data is made available to all those that are interested. I truly believe the majority of my success comes from working hard and learning as much relevant information available about the product then sharing that information with those I come in contact with.

I suggest that each individual attend as many meetings and seminars as you can. Also, each Symmetry business partner should always be a hard-working dedicated person who never stereotypes people or categorizes them. Lastly, I suggest that every business partner surround themselves with goal-oriented partners for inspiration.

I would like to give inspired thank yous to Mr. Rudy Revak, Mr. Willie Larkin, Ms. Joyce Scott and Mrs. Wiletha Williams. These individuals are well deserving of my gratitude for the introduction to Symmetry's products. I also thank my entire Symmetry family.
