I first got involved with Symmetry at a young age, primarily helping my parents handle administrative tasks for their Symmetry business. Prior to working this business we were renting homes, driving dated cars, and were in poor health. After three & a half years of my parents working the business part-time, we encountered a complete lifestyle transformation: we moved into a new 5,400 sq. foot home, started driving luxury cars, we traveled around the world, and our health was greatly improved. This turnaround in our lifestyle attracted me to Symmetry, and I made a decision to follow in my parent's footsteps; in 1998 I began to host Symmetry meetings on my own.

Symmetry goes beyond health, wealth, and personal growth - and while I love all those aspects, to me, at the heart of Symmetry is compassion. Nothing comes close to the feeling of joy you receive when you know you have genuinely helped someone either physically through the product, financially through the marketing system or personally through the relational development that happens as a result of working together. Some of my goals have been to further my education, achieve at least RFVP and be financially independent, and Symmetry has helped me achieve these goals. My earnings with Symmetry have helped me pay for my undergraduate education, and will help with the finances when I begin my master's program soon; all the resources have helped me become RFVP with more confidence in achieving higher levels; and I was able to purchase my very own condo. Despite these and other expenses, money is still available at the end of the month!

The key to my success is accumulative knowledge through experience and applying that knowledge consistently. Having grown up with exposure to the business, I've learned important elements needed to work the business. I simply started applying this knowledge when I approach people, talk to them, and enroll them. I've had to overcome my own fears at times to talk to people, but the more I did it, the better and more confident I became. In addition, I make sure to take care of my downlines and pass on my knowledge to improve their businesses as well.

I advise people to join Symmetry not only for your own wealth and health but also to help others become better off financially and nutritionally. Putting your goodwill into the business is just as rewarding as what you get out of the business. Symmetry gives us the right tools—the company, the products, and the marketing plan—to help us build up other people and thereby buildup ourselves.
