I was looking for a program that would allow me to help others with their health and wellness while earning residual income, and Symmetry incorporated the perfect combination of this. It is an amazing feeling to share these products with both adults and children and watching their lives improve in many wonderful ways such as eliminating the use of prescription drugs, progressing behavior in school, and just their overall quality of life. Following the Symmetry plan, staying involved and using the power of tools will help anyone achieve true success with their business. Using the power of tools very extensively is what has made my business what it is, and having Mr. Willie Larkin as a mentor has proven to be invaluable. It is very important for business partners to get their down lines involved right away; the broad range of useful tools Symmetry provides — the website, the DVDs, the flip chart, the emails, the conference calls and many more — are great ways to educate newcomers. People just joining Symmetry will immediately realize that nothing is more superior to the products and the company itself; Symmetry is unparalleled.

As a nutritionist with over 34 years of experience, connecting with a company that could satisfy countless nutritional deficiencies, was like a match made in heaven. Symmetry's convenient and easy-to-take, nutritionally balanced whole food products have helped my family and clients effectively restore their health in a short period of time. Genesis tremendously helped my sister in her battle with leukemia and I've witnessed a child go from a special education class to a regular class with the use of Future Star; when you have this type of life-altering success, you can't help but to endorse these high quality products. Symmetry does 90% of the work whereas our job is to simply introduce the products. I advise beginners to promote the products by using the tools, sharing testimonials, and through product demonstrations and sampling, so people can experience the benefits themselves. Symmetry affords me the opportunity to travel and be debt-free, while I live my passion, which is helping people with their health.
